

Freelance Writing

Love to Write, but Hate to Starve?

FACT: Businesses Need Writers, and Will Pay Handsomely for Them...

Attention: Writers, career-changers, at-home Moms, journalists, or anyone looking to thrive as a writer. Here's the new edition of the quadruple-award-winning roadmap to a lucrative "commercial" freelancing practice—a home-based "contactless" opportunity that can reliably pay $50-125+/hour!

Here's Why Companies Hire Freelancers...

Writing is the engine of commerce. In the course of communicating with customers and employees, a typical corporation generates a HUGE volume of writing.

Yet, in our downsized, post-COVID world, companies are increasingly asking: "Why pay salaries and benefits, when freelancers—offering a range of talent and fresh "outsider" perspectives—give us only what we need, only when we need it?"

In this brand-new and heavily updated edition of TWFW, you'll learn the real-world success strategies of the author and countless successful freelancers, including how to:

- Find, land and execute high-profit writing projects
- Crush online job-site rates—even with modest skills
- Leverage ANY background into a lucrative practice
- Build a high-$ income part-time, or in a smaller market
- Enjoy an enviable lifestyle AND a handsome living

A Surprisingly Accessible & Lucrative Writing Path...

Despite NO industry contacts, writing experience or training, the author was paying all his bills in four months. This "covers-every-base" blueprint only assumes two things: you're a decent writer, and you want to make a GOOD living at it. Use it to build a practice that moves light years beyond "starving writing"!

Peter Bowerman—business coach, speaker and commercial freelancer since 1993, is the author of the original 2000 Book-of-the-Month Club title, The Well-Fed Writer, and its quadruple-award-winning 2010 update—industry standards on "commercial freelancing." He's also the author of The Well-Fed Self-Publisher: How to Turn One Book into a Full-Time Living (www.wellfedsp.com).
